NIMT works very hard to maintain one hour physical therapy appointments as we are committed to your recovery; your one hour appointment is reserved time in our schedule. Because missed appointments are not reimbursed by any insurance company, you are required to give 24 hour notice for cancellations or you will be charged the Full Self-Pay Rate for the missed appointment. Cancellations must be called in to our office directly, or left on our practice voicemail if the office is closed.

I understand that I am responsible for: knowing/confirming my own physical therapy benefits with my insurance company; and meeting the requirements of my insurance plan. Although NIMT can help research your insurance coverage or pre-authorization I understand that some insurance companies require medical or administrative pre-authorization for treatment and that this is my responsibility. I also understand that some insurance companies have reimbursement limits on physical therapy.

I understand that I am ultimately responsible for my physical therapy charges, and I agree to pay my deductible, my co-insurance or co-payment, and any charges not reimbursed by my insurance carrier. NIMT will routinely file insurance as a courtesy to you. However, it is agreed that NIMT will not be held responsible for any administrative errors in processing claims or for denial of claims by your insurer, and shall not be used as an offset against your bill.

Payment for services or your personal (co-pay) portion is expected at the time of service.

If the insurance portion of your bill is not paid within 60 days from the date of service, you will be responsible for the outstanding balance.

Other financial concerns: NIMT understands that financial difficulties occur and we will make every effort to work with you. However, if it becomes necessary to send your account to collections, you agree to pay all costs of collections including attorney's fees (of 33.3% and 18% interest per annum from date services were rendered) on unpaid balances accrued. Additionally, there is a $25 fee for returned checks.

PRIVACY NOTICE EFFECTIVE 06/01/03

This notice is written in accordance with the privacy regulations promulgated under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, 45 CTR parts 160 and 164 (the "Privacy Regulation"). It describes now medical information about you and your family members may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Norfolk Integrative Manual Therapy is committed to compliance with the Privacy Regulations and all other laws and regulations pertaining to our patient's right to privacy. Please review it carefully, check the appropriate box to give us permission to file claims with your insurance company and place your signature at the bottom to indicate that you have read this notice. As a general rule, therapists and physicians will disclose no information obtained from your contacts with them, or the fact that you are their patient, except with you written consent. Upon request for such authorization, you have the right the refuse and/or revoke any disclosure of your personal health information. However, there are some important exceptions to this confidentiality rule, as described below, or as otherwise specified by law.

I. It is our policy to provide information to others without your further consent in certain circumstances:

- a) VACATIONS/EMERGENCIES (e.g., When your therapist or physician is on vacation or away from the office for extended periods of time, a colleague may cover for his/her practice and take emergency calls. If information is needed in order to assist you during their absence, it will be provided to the on-call therapist or physician.)
- b) CONSULTATION (e.g., to insure that quality care is being provided, your therapist may meet with a consultant.) In so doing, no identifying information will be revealed. Your therapist will provide names of consultants upon request.)
- c) BILLING (e.g., our billing clerk has access to the information necessary for preparing monthly statements and submitting insurance claims.)
- d) EMPLOYEES (e.g., Office colleagues do not have access to other therapists' or physicians' records.)

II. Virginia law requires therapists to release information to others in certain circumstances:

- a) Virginia therapists are required by law to report certain information:
 - (1)Suspicion of abuse or neglect of a child or of an aged or incapacitated adult must be reported to the Department of Social Services.
 - (2)Information that a therapist of physician is engaging in unethical illegal practice must be reported to their respective licensing board.
- b) In Virginia court cases, therapist—patient privilege may not apply in certain cases including the following:

criminal cases

any court cases in which your physical therapy health is an issue any case in which the judge "in the exercise of sound discretion, deems it necessary to the proper administration of justice." This means that information communicated to a therapist can be admitted as evidence in a court case against your wishes if a judge so rules. Others sometimes issue a subpoena seeking either treatment records or testimony from your present or former therapist as evidence in a court case.

III. Information will be provided to the Third Party Payers only with your consent

If you wish to obtain third party reimbursement for physical therapy services certain information must be provided. You must decide whether to give consent for Norfolk Integrative Manual Therapy to release the necessary information to an insurance company (or other third party payer) in order to receive reimbursement. Initially, that usually involves providing information about dates of treatment, type of treatment, and diagnosis. If your therapist receives requests for further information these will be discussed with you before the information is provided. For Managed Care Providers:

If your insurance company contracts with a company to administer (manage) the physical therapy portion of your health care benefits, this is called Managed Care. Many managed care companies require that you obtain a referral from your primary care physician and/or pre-authorization from a case manager in order to receive physical therapy services. In advance, (1) we will discuss possible limits on the benefits available through your plan; (2) we will review a Treatment Plan so that you understand what will be required in order to request reimbursement; and (3) we will discuss the payment plan that will be in effect in the event that our work together continues past the point when third party reimbursement is available.

Most managed care companies initially authorize a limited number of sessions, then require that your therapist furnish a written report pertaining to your progress in physical therapy and goals for your therapy. If additional sessions are authorized, updated Treatment Plans about your progress may be required throughout our work together; your therapist will discuss the content of each Treatment Plan before it is sent to the managed care company.

The information provided to any third party payer becomes a permanent part of your file with them; neither you nor your therapist will have control over the future confidentiality of that information, including whether it is made available to an insurance data bank and/or your employer, or is rereleased for other purposes.

- a) RIGHT TO REQUEST RESTRICTIONS (You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of protected health information about you. However, your therapist may not be required to agree to a restriction that you request.)
- b) RIGHT TO RECEIVE CONFIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS BY ALTERNATIVE MEANS AND AT ALTERNATIVE LOCATIONS (You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of personal health information by alternative means and at alternative locations such as having your bills sent to a different address.)
- c) RIGHT TO INSPECT AND COPY (You have the right to inspect or obtain a copy (or both) of your personal health information and physical therapy notes in your therapist's records and billing records that are used to make decisions about you for as long as the personal health information is maintained in the record (in this office six years).
- d) RIGHT TO AN ACCOUNTING (You generally have the right to receive an accounting of the disclosures of your personal health information for which you have neither provided consent or authorization as described in Section II of this Notice. On your request, your therapist will discuss with you details of this accounting process.)
- e) RIGHT TO A PAPER COPY (You have the right to obtain a paper copy of the notice from your therapist upon request, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically.)

Additional Information: In order to check compliance with the HIPPA regulations, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services can request copes of your medical record from your therapist. Norfolk Integrative Manual Therapy reserves the right to change this Notice and to make a revised and changed notice effective for medical information that NIMT may already have about you as well as any information we receive in the future. We keep a copy of the current Notice containing the effective date in the waiting room of NIMT.
